

NEWSPAPERMAN ON STAND IN HERRIN TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Donald M. Ewing Grilled by Defense as to Story Written

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., March 28.—By two witnesses were called to stand by the prosecution at the resumption today of the trial of Hugh Willis, state executive of the Illinois Mine Workers' union, charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riots, most of the session being taken up by a legal battle which was won by the defense.

Among the spectators when the court resumed after a two day recess caused by illness in the family of one of the jurors were Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Mine Workers; Henry Shwartz, vice-president of the same organization and Robert Hill, director of the state department of mines and minerals. Mr. Farrington occupied a seat at the counsel table throughout the session.

The first witness was J. C. Hook of Louisville, Ky., who formerly was manager of an insurance office in Marion, which specialized in working men's compensation insurance. He was called to tell of an alleged admission made by Phillip Fontanetta the youngest of the defendants, for whose family he had insured a compensation claim.

The defense objected to Hook's filing of the alleged admission made by Fontanetta on the grounds that Fontanetta had consulted him as a lawyer and therefore the communication was confidential and privileged.

Judge D. T. Hartwell sustained the contention of the defense on the grounds that Hook himself did not immediately reported to the authorities the alleged admission and had treated it as a confidential communication until he had revealed it to another attorney. Hook was then permitted to testify that the afternoon before the riots he had seen Fontanetta lead a crowd into a Marion hardware store and had told him to say:

"There are fourteen of our brothers in the trenches and killed. We must get arms and ammunition. Let's go to the American Legion and get the American Legion guns."

Donald M. Ewing, a Chicago newspaperman, testified that he arrived in Marion from Chicago the morning of the riots, had taken an automobile to the mine where the trouble started and then had gone on toward Herrin where he found six men lying in the road surrounded by a crowd of about 150 persons.

The witness said three of the men were dead and one was still breathing and two were conscious and begging for water. He declared he had tried to give one drink but had been prevented by a man he identified as Bert Grace, defendant.

Ewing testified that he was acting as a staff correspondent of The Associated Press and had done so on Herrin and dictated his story over the long distance telephone to St. Louis. In answer to questions he described The Associated Press as a cooperative association composed of more than 1,400 newspapers in all parts of the country.

Rufus Neeley of defense counsel on cross-examination read a story printed in The New York Times, of Friday, June 23, which was distributed by The Associated Press. After reading a section dealing of the shooting down of the six men, he asked:

"Did you write this sentence: 'Hundreds of men, women and children were killed'?"

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD IS PROBING SOURCE OF RUMORS

Intimated Possible Increase in Rediscount Rates

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Efforts of the Federal reserve board and the governors of the twelve reserve banks in conference here to discover the sources of rumors concerning possible increases in rediscount rates by the reserve banks brought nothing tangible today. Not a single reply to the board's telegram was sent to more than one hundred inquirers yesterday asking where they learned of contemplated action by the board of governors' conference.

The telegrams of the board had the effect, however, of putting a sudden stoppage to the flood of messages which it was receiving each of which sought information whether anything in the nature of or tending to a rediscount rate decrease would result from the conference of the governors.

Reserve board officials reiterated today that none of the twelve banks had made application for permission to raise their rediscount rates.

The board's approval must be had before such rate changes are made and it was stated that the subject of rates had entered only casually into the governors' discussion.

The conference which began Monday attracted wide interest in financial circles, because of reports of contemplated changes in the rediscount rates and shifts in policy either by the reserve board or by the banks themselves. There was no indication tonight, however, that anything of far-reaching importance would come out of the sessions which probably will conclude tomorrow.

Vice Governor Platt, acting head of the reserve board, is expected back at his desk tomorrow after a trip to Coldwater, Mich., to attend the funeral of the late Milo D. Campbell, a board member. It was assumed that with his return the board would continue the discussion.

There was no discussion, however, warranting the belief that decision of important questions was pending.

Sugar Inquiry to Be Far Reaching

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Outstanding developments here in the sugar situation were the announcement by the tariff commission that in compliance with instructions from President Harding its inquiry into the effect of new import duty on prices would be more far reaching than originally was intended and the prediction by Secretary Hoover that present prices would result in decreased consumption and increased production.

When the tariff commission met today it had before it the president's telegram sent Tuesday night from St. Augustine, Fla., directing that it establish whether or not the new tariff was keeping the retail price of sugar at high levels. The commission, which already had initiated an investigation at the request of Cuban producers to determine whether a reduction in the sugar duties was advisable under flexible provisions of the tariff law, decided at once to increase the scope of its inquiry.

Members of the committee predicted it probably would be six months before a comprehensive study of production costs in Cuba, Porto Rico and Hawaii, as well as the United States and of local stocks and world supplies on various dates could be completed and recommendations submitted to the president who has authority to alter the tariff rates.

Mr. Hoover's prediction was made in a letter to Representative Dallinger, Republican, Mass., who had asked for information as to the present situation.

"Sugar consumption and production," said the commerce secretary, "responded very quickly to price. It would be normal to anticipate that estimated consumption would decrease as the result of the present over high price."

Mr. Hoover's forecast "that the present price levels will no doubt stimulate production, especially in Cuba, at this moment plan of profits are very large."

CONFIDENCE RING TRIAL ENDS WITH VERDICT OF GUILTY

Twenty Members of Alleged Ring Found Guilty as Charged

(By The Associated Press)
DENVER, March 28.—A jury trying twenty members of an alleged nationwide confidence ring returned a verdict at 5:42 o'clock this afternoon finding all of them guilty.

The jury had been out since 10:45 last Saturday morning. Horace N. Hawkins, chief counsel for the defense, at once jumped to his feet to have an exception to the finding.

Judge Sharp, following the reading of the verdict made his acceptance of the finding conditional when the roll was called.

Sharp said:

"Yes, on condition," when asked whether he concurred in the finding. Finally when Judge Dunklee, presiding asked him whether the verdict was his, he finally said, "yes."

Afterward Sharp, in explaining his vote said he had been sick since Saturday. Hawkins asked whether he had reached his decision because of his physical condition. The question was objected to and the objection was sustained, but Sharp announced that the decision had been reached of his own volition and that he would abide by it.

Hawkins entered formal objection on the verdict on the ground that it had been reached as a result of the physical distress of a member of the jury.

S. Harwich White, special prosecutor in answering Hawkins' claim that the illness of Sharp had merely delayed the verdict and had not changed the jury's finding.

Hawkins offered to show by the jury that he was forced into this verdict. The state objected and was sustained.

The court formally accepted the verdict of the jury at 5:50 o'clock.

At the request of defense attorneys the court granted twenty days in which to file a motion for a new trial.

Judge Dunklee thanked the jurors for their long and arduous service during the trial and discharged them.

Before the jury men could leave the court house subpoenas were served upon several of them ordering them before the county grand jury tomorrow. This was understood to mean an investigation into the alleged efforts to influence the jury during its deliberations.

GOVERNMENT TELLS WHAT TIGHTWAD IS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—A "tightwad" is designated by the government as a man who saves sixty cents of every dollar and expends 37 cents of the balance for living expenses and one cent each for education, recreation and giving.

In a little book entitled "how other people get ahead," the government savings system is endeavoring to interest the American people, especially those with moderate incomes, in thrift.

Alongside its designation of a "tightwad" it places the spendthrift who is described as a man who saves nothing, spends 56 cents of every dollar on living expenses, 40 cents on recreation and one cent each for education and giving. The thrifty man is designated as one who saves 26 cents of every dollar, spends 50 cents on living and 10 cents each on education, giving and recreation.

GLORIA SWANSON SUED FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28.—Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress was made defendant in a divorce suit filed today by Herbert H. Somborn, her husband. The complaint charges desertion.

Mrs. Swanson was married to her present husband in December, 1915, just a year after her first husband, Wallace Beery, film actor obtained a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion.

Persistent rumors that their married life was troubled culminated finally in an announcement by Miss Swanson in September, 1921, that "the report that my husband and I have separated is true."

Somborn later verified this announcement but said a divorce was not contemplated.

Moscow, March 28.—The condition of Premier Lenine remains without change from yesterday. The physicians' bulletin issued today gives the temperatures as 100.4, pulse 110, respiration 28, and adds:

Ruthenberg Grilled on Stand Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 28.—Charles E. Ruthenberg, co-defendant with William Z. Foster, charged with advocating criminal syndicalism and witness for Foster in his trial admitted on the witness stand today after first denying it, that he had written an article saying the workers must "adopt extra-preliminary means," including "use of armed force to overthrow the government of the United States." Ruthenberg's fourth day on the stand was marked by a grueling examination by O. L. Smith, assistant attorney general of Michigan, who attacked the witness' qualifications as an expert on communism.

"Tell us whether or not you have at any time in a written article advocated the overthrow of the government of the United States by force?" the attorney general asked.

"I have already explained -" Ruthenberg began, when Mr. Smith interrupted and demanded a "yes or no" answer.

"No," the witness said.

Mr. Smith produced a copy of the October, 1921, communist secret organ of the communist party during its underground existence and asked Ruthenberg if an article signed "Damon"—his party alias—had not been written by him. The witness acknowledged the authorship.

"Did you state in this article," Mr. Smith asked, "that the workers must adopt 'extra preliminary means' of achieving power, and that these methods, 'include acceptance of the principle that the existing capitalist government would be overthrown thru the mass power of the workers and this includes the use of armed force'?"

Ruthenberg started an explanatory statement but the attorney general interrupted.

"Did you write that statement?"

"Yes, but - - -"

"All right, we'll let it go at that."

"Mr. Ruthenberg, if you could bring about a proletarian revolution in America tomorrow, would you do it?"

"I think that is a nonsensical question," Ruthenberg heatedly answered. "It shows ignorance on historical and economical facts and - - -"

"Assuming that you had the physical and intellectual power to destroy capitalist government in America tomorrow," Mr. Smith interrupted, "would you or would you not do it?"

"I have already stated that a revolution cannot occur except by mass action and not until the mass of workers and farmers find they can gain relief from exploitation in no other way."

"You don't want to answer my question, do you? Is it not the theory of the writers we have referred to, Lenin, Trotsky, Bukharin and Radek, that communism is incompatible with any religious belief?"

"It is not."

"Do you mean to say that that theory is not advanced by Bukharin?"

"It may be Bukharin's theory but it is not theory of communists."

From the "A. B. C. of Communism," a book written by Bukharin who is a member of the executive committee of the Moscow international and E. Proobrazhensky, Mr. Smith produced a passage which read:

"In practice no less than in theory, Communism is incompatible with religious faith. A communist who rejects the commandments of religion and acts in accordance with the directions of the party ceases to be one of the faithful. On the other hand, one who while calling himself a communist continues to cling to his religious faith one who in the name of religious commandments infringes the precepts of the party, ceases thereby to be a communist."

Mr. Smith brought out that Ruthenberg had served ten months in an Ohio prison for obstructing the draft during the war, and then read to him from the "thesis and resolutions" of the third congress of the Communist international at Moscow, an attack on the American Legion in which the war veterans were described as "the floaters and jettison of the war" and the leaders among "the organizations of strike-breakers and cut throats which are an old time embellishment of American Democracy."

"Are you in favor of the American Legion?" the prosecutor asked.

"No," Ruthenberg said.

Ruthenberg was still on the stand at adjournment tonight.

The loss was in the hundreds of thousands of dollars and by some was estimated at a million.

NO ORATIONS AT FUNERAL SERVICE FOR BERNHARDT

Great Actress' Desire for Many Flowers is Gratified

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, March 28.—The body of Sarah Bernhardt tonight rested in the famous rosewood casket lined with white satin which was made at her order thirty years ago and in which she was frequently photographed while on her foreign tours.

Abbe Lotit, of the Church of St. Francis De Sales, where the funeral service will be held tomorrow noon, said the last prayers over the great artist tonight. She was tenderly lifted from her bed and placed in the coffin which was taken to the ground floor of the home where a room has been transformed into a chapel.

Bernhardt is still clad in her white satin dress. Over her face and hair a fine lace veil has been drawn. On her breast is pinned the cross of the Legion of Honor and around her neck is a ribbon holding the gold locket containing the picture and lock of hair of her son, Maurice, which she always wore.

The casket was closed except for the upper part which was left open so that the face could be seen thru the veil. The prayers over, the interrupted passage of mourners was resumed.

The casket will be taken to the church early tomorrow morning and after the service the funeral procession will go to the Cemetery Pere Lachaise, where the body will be placed in a simple, but massive vault without decoration and bearing only one word "Bernhardt."

The Paris city authorities had hoped to hold the services in some great church such as La Madeleine, but Bernhardt's wish was that it be simple as possible and her preference was for the relatively small church which she attended while in Paris.

There will be no orations at the funeral in compliance with her wish but her desire for many flowers is certain to be gratified by the public.

DAUGHERTY BRINGS NEW CHARACTER IN CASE

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 28.—The limelight of public interest which was shifted from character to character in the Dorothy Keenan murder case tonight was focused on the identity of the man who Major Draper M. Daugherty, son of the United States attorney general said today had threatened to blackmail him because of his acquaintance with the model unless he obtained a position for him with the department of justice.

Daugherty appearing voluntarily before Assistant District Attorney Pecora discussed at length with him his acquaintance with the slain girl and then avoiding reporters vanished after giving the prosecutor the name of the alleged blackmailer. This name Mr. Pecora kept to himself.

The only hint he would give newspapermen was that the man in question already had been questioned by the police in connection with another matter. Reporters encountered the same difficulty interviewing Daugherty as they did when the mysterious Mr. Marshall—the girl's elderly admirer later revealed as J. K. Mitchell, Philadelphia capitalist and clubman was the central figure in the drama.

After his visitor had departed Mr. Pecora made the following comment:

"The information given me by Mr. Daugherty does not tend to show any light on the solution of the murder mystery but it is of interest to me. I think Mr. Daugherty spoke to me frankly and I regarded him as trustworthy as I have regarded Mr. Mitchell."

FURTHER SEARCH FOR WITNESSES IS MADE

(By The Associated Press)
WAUKESHA, March 28.—Further search for witnesses, who are said to be able to furnish the missing links in the grand jury investigation of alleged attempts to bribe jurors and veniremen at the trial of Governor Small will be conducted in Lake county and Chicago, A. V. Smith, state's attorney intimated today after the grand jury had adjourned until Monday.

Among those who have been sought by the state's attorney since the onset of the investigation is "Umbrella Mike" Boyle, Chicago labor chieftain who pleaded sickness as an excuse against answering the subpoena served on him and who disappeared into some Chicago hospital yesterday when Sheriff Ahlstrom appeared at his home with a physician to diagnose his illness.

Ben Newark, Chicago detective whose name has been mentioned several times in connection with the reported attempts to bribe jurors has been sought since the

FILIBUSTER MAY BE STARTED BY DEMOCRATS TODAY

Want Ballot Boxes Opened in Election Contest

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 28.—Democrats of the house of representatives are prepared to start a filibuster tomorrow morning, John P. Devine, of Dixon, minority leader, told The Associated Press tonight following an afternoon caucus, unless the Republicans on the elections committee agree to open certain ballot boxes to determine whether M. F. Hennebery, Democrat of Wilmington is entitled to the seat of Representative W. R. McCabe, of Lockport.

The filibuster is to continue until it is agreed to recount the ballots at once, the Democrats decided. This morning on a strict party vote, the election's committee decided to postpone further consideration of the contest until April 10.

Minority members contend Mr. Hennebery received enough votes in Downers Grove, with those received elsewhere to elect him over Representative McCabe.

Rep. representative Brennan, Democrat, Bloomington, in an emphatic speech to the committee this morning threatened that Republican legislation would not receive Democratic votes unless a recount was ordered, but the Republicans did not take the statement seriously.

The vote to delay consideration of the contest followed a request by Congressman W. P. Holtz of Georgetown, counsel for McCabe, that he be allowed time to recuse more witnesses. The Republican committed members said they believed other witnesses might give testimony which would obviate opening the ballot boxes and save the state expense and the members their time.

Republican leaders tonight discounted the proposed filibuster arguing that it would be suicidal for the Democrats to do anything which would tend to prevent enactment of necessary Democratic legislation.

ADVANCEMENT OF THE DUNLAP STATE POLICE BILL TO THIRD READING IN THE SENATE AND POSTPONEMENT OF CONSIDERATION OF THE O'NEILL WOMEN'S EIGHT HOUR BILL IN THE HOUSE WERE THE DAY'S CHIEF LEGISLATIVE DEVELOPMENTS.

The House passed the Weils bill increasing the speed limit on country roads from 30 to 35 miles an hour and minor measures.

Approval of the Smejkal appropriation $20,124.28 for operation and maintenance of charitable, penal and reformatory institutions for the biennium was voted this afternoon by the house appropriations committee. It amended the measure subject to the consent of Mr. Smejkal who was absent to provide also $50,000 for a new building at the Illinois soldiers' orphans' home at Normal. The new quarters have been urged by the American Legion.

Hearing was held this afternoon by the senate judiciary committee on the Dailey equal rights bill establishing women on a legal parity with men.

Miss Maud Younger, national legislative chairman of the National Woman's party, Mrs. Bern Mitchell.

The value of farm crops the last year is given as $14,000,000, a very decided increase over the crop values of the year before. However, this does not mean that the farmer's condition has improved to the needed extent. The real test is not the price that the producer receives per bushel for the grain he raises, but rather what he can buy for his dollars.

In Chicago a campaign has been on for a number of days to raise $115,000 for the extension of Boy Scout work and $47,000 is total thus far secured.

Keeping these figures in mind, Jacksonville does not have a bad showing in raising in one week's time $155,000 toward a $200,000 fund.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
Here!
By Berton Braley
WHEN there's a sudden softness that trembles in the air,
And certain early song-birds are chirping here and there;
When there's a brighter color in arching skies above
And youth with errant fancy has turned its thoughts to love;
We know, although tomorrow may be an arctic day,
That winter's grip is broken and spring is on the way.
WHEN fishermen get tackle out, and count their stock of flies,
When golfers polish up their clubs with longing in their eyes,
When there's an end of stove-league dope and baseball scribes begin
To join the training camps down south and send their stories in
Of wondrous Rockies from the bush (who'll last, perhaps, till May);
Then winter's grip is broken and spring is on the way.
WHEN once again we read the news that Tyrus Cobb is "through,"
When there's a sneeze on every breeze and microbes grin achoo!
When overcoats are "sacrificed" at special sales galore,
And suits of lighter weight and hue are seen in every store,
When birds like me sit down to write this vernal sort of lay,
Then winter's grip is broken and spring is on the way!

"They cried out exceedingly, Crucify him!" Mark 15:14.
Read Mark 15:1-20.
"But Jesus could not save himself. When has love ever been able to save itself?"
MEDITATION: When they cried out against the love and goodness of Jesus, evil seemed to triumph. But where lay the victory? In reality, it was love and goodness that triumphed.
HYMN:
Dear Lord and Father of mankind
Forgive our feverish ways,
Recreate us in your rightful mind,
In purer lives thy service find,
In deeper reverence, praise.
PRAYER: O God of Patience and consolation, give us such good will, we beseech thee, that with free hearts we may love and serve thee and our brethren; and having thus the mind of Christ, may begin heaven on earth, and exercise ourselves therein till that day when heaven, where love abideth, shall seem no strange habitation to us. For Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

HYPNOTIZED
NEA
You have seen hypnotists on the stage. Scientists are giving them increasing attention. The other day in England, Dr. S. R. Wilson appeared before a society for psychical research and performed this interesting experiment:
Wilson hypnotized a man, then told him that the carpet was a magic one and would carry him to King Tut's tomb in Egypt. The man under the hypnotic spell was highly pleased. He swayed back and forth as though the imaginary trip through the air were rough.
When told that the carpet had come to earth, the man stepped out, scooped up imaginary sand and exclaimed with delight. Then he went through all the motions of thoroughly inspecting Tut's tomb.
His imaginary trip probably was as good as the real thing, except that he had no recollection of it when roused from the hypnotic state.
Hypnotism, far from being a force used only occasionally on the stage and in scientific investigations, is employed daily in the lives of all of us.
The attraction that generates love is hypnotic.
The oily salesman who can induce people to buy what they really neither need nor want is an ent-and-out hypnotist.
Political leaders who attract large followings have the hypnotic power highly developed in them.
All mass movements of the public involve an element of hypnotism. It's one of the great mysteries, is hypnotism. No one can explain it except in generalities.

RAYMOND TO GIVE RETURN LECTURES
Two hundred and fifty tickets have already been sold for a series of two lectures to be delivered here on April 19 and 20 by Frank Jewel Raymond. Although fifty additional tickets must be sold to meet the requirements of the contract, Mr. Raymond has already been signed up to appear here at that time.
Those who heard the lecture on "Business Mastery" by Mr. Raymond at the Chamber of Commerce recently, cannot fail to want to hear him again. The first lecture of the two which he will deliver on his return engagement is entitled "You." The second is on the subject, "Making Good in Business." Those who are back of the movement to bring Mr. Raymond here for these lectures urge that business men, clerks, salesmen and all who are interested in business subjects to purchase tickets and attend the lectures.
MADE ADDRESSES AT PATOKA
At Patoka, Ill., recently J. A. Groves of this city made two addresses before students of the high school. Mr. Groves talked about farm mechanics in the morning and later related some of his experiences in Russia, where he was a resident for several years.
The Patoka Register made the following reference to Mr. Groves' address:
"J. A. Groves of Jacksonville, gave a very instructive talk to the boys and girls of the high school Wednesday morning on the subject of 'Farm Mechanics.' In the afternoon, he delivered a lecture on 'Russian Farming and Education.' He told the pupils how needful a high school education was in this time and age and to remember that they were the future men of this great commonwealth. He urged them as the future men to provide the coming girls and boys with a high school if the present school should be voted out and they should be denied the privilege of a high school."

HOME DEPARTMENT AND CRADLE ROLL WORKERS

The time has come for our annual meeting. This year our meeting is to be held at Westminster church.

For several different reasons it is thought advisable to defer the meeting until the first of second Monday in May, the date to be announced later. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the ladies of Westminster church. This will be followed by an interesting program of toasts and music.

It is earnestly hoped that the superintendents of the Home Departments and Cradle Rolls from each individual church of Jacksonville will be ready with good reports. The report of the Home Departments should not only tell the number of members but the number who have studied each lesson and had an offering for each Sunday and are thus included on the honor roll. The church having the longest list of such members is entitled to keep the Home Department banner for the coming year.

FINAL ARGUMENTS HEARD ON RATES FOR SMALL GRAIN

Roads Would Place All Grains on Par with Wheat

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The interstate commerce commission today heard final arguments on the petition of Western railroads to have freight rates on corn, oats, barley and all grains other than wheat fixed at the same level as those on wheat.

Attorneys for the railroads were opposed in argument by Representatives of western farmers and shippers including Clyde M. Reed, chairman of the Kansas utilities commission; C. B. Hutchings, transportation director of the American Farm Bureau Federation; John E. Benton, solicitor of the National association of railroad and utilities commissioners and J. W. Shorttill, secretary of the Farmers' National Grain Dealers' association.

When the commerce commission in 1921, ordered a special reduction averaging about 13 per cent in all western grain rates it likewise required that the coarse grains be given rates 10 per cent below the level of rates on wheat and applied the rule to all territory between the Pacific coast and the Mississippi river.

R. E. Bell, attorney for the Southern Pacific declared today that prior to this action in Pacific coast and southwestern territory carriers had never given coarse grains lower rates than they gave wheat shipments. It was conceded, however, that in the northwest Mississippi valley states the coarse grain rates prior to the federal control of railroads had always been on a lower basis than wheat rates.

Mr. Reed in closing the case for the shippers and western states declared that the railroads themselves voluntarily made a difference in the rates charged upon wheat and coarse grain as far back as 1869.

"The difference," he continued, "was a recognition of the lower value of the coarse grains and was one of the means used to encourage the production of corn and oats in the western territory especially in the territory west of the Missouri river."

boys laughed at their pleas for water.

"No sir, I did not put that into the story," the witness answered. "Did you put into your story that you saw a young woman there?"

"Yes sir."

"Did you say that this young woman said: 'I'll see you in hell before you get any water'?"

"Substantially that."

"Didn't you write that these men had been dragged behind an automobile and gravel imbedded in their flesh?"

"Yes, but what I thought was gravel I afterwards found was spots caused by bird shit."

"Is it true that reputable newspapers are not allowed to change or garble news matter supplied by The Associated Press?"

"The Associated Press has eight or ten instances of newspapers doing that every week."

POLITICAL ATMOSPHERE GATHERING CLOSER

(By The Associated Press.)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 28.—The political atmosphere which has so lightly surrounded President Harding and the administration officials composing his vacation party today seemed to gather a little closer. One of the contributing factors to this concentration was the development that the president after turning over in his mind the statement recently made in Miami by Attorney General Daugherty, his pre-convention manager in 1920 and since then his chief political adviser had come to the conclusion that it might have been better had the statement been withheld at least for the present.

In his statement Mr. Daugherty, while emphasizing that it was too long until the 1924 campaign to begin talks of politics predicted that Mr. Harding would be a candidate for re-nomination.

The other factor was the arrival here of Mr. Daugherty. Until today the president and his principal adviser in matters of politics had not met since the latter had issued his statement. Mr. Daugherty came to St. Augustine with previously announced plans and is enroute back to Washington after a visit to Florida to recuperate from his recent illness.

The president and Mr. Daugherty were together only a few minutes today. Mr. Harding stopping at the attorney general's suite on his way to lunch.

Colonel Ashburn has transferred his headquarters from the steamer Vicksburg to the seized tow boat Illinois on his quest down stream to Caseyville, Ky., where the two remaining barges of the fleet are anchored, to complete the seizure of the fleet tomorrow.

After arriving here the fleet consisting of seventeen barges and four tow boats and the Vicksburg, were moored for the night at East Cairo, Ky. Ride on Springs Walk in Cantilevers

Primitive people rode in ox-carts—heavy, rigid, and without springs. Modern love of comfort and speed brought about the easy motor car, traveling on springs so resilient and balanced that we seem almost to ride through the air—the modern "Wings of Mercury."

To a lesser degree, our feet in daily life should act like the springs of the motor car. Nature composed the human foot of resilient, flexible arches to absorb the body shocks. Nothing rigid about your foot as Nature made it.

In the words of a doctor, "The foot is a cantilever spring."

The Flexible Arch

Does the arch of your shoe correspond with the arch of your foot in flexibility? Change to Cantilever Shoes. There is no concealed rigid metal embedded in the shank of Cantilever Shoes as in all ordinary shoes. They flex with your foot when you walk; permit the muscles to exercise and strengthen; allow free circulation; give room for all the toes. They give you complete comfort and trim appearance.

Wear the "Wings of Mercury." That means: Wear Cantilever Shoes. Sold in Jacksonville only by us.

ART AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL.
The current issue of Art and Archaeology, monthly magazine published by the Archaeological Society of Washington, has been received by Gates Strawn, who is a member of the society. Jacksonville people have special interest in this magazine from the fact that Dr. Edward Capps is a member of the board of directors.

A feature of the March number is an article on "The Vassar Collection of Psyche Tapestries," written by Elizabeth Hazlitt Haight. The illustrations which are done in etching tones are brought out beautifully. R. A. S. Macalister describes "The Antiquities of Ireland," with profuse illustrations, the art subjects being in conspicuous contrast to those of the first article mentioned.

There are still other valuable contributions to the magazine and art lovers will find it of interest from cover to cover. Notes from art galleries in various cities present summarized art and archaeological information which the readers of the magazine cannot fail to appreciate.

Recollections of Early Days In Jacksonville

George W. Fox, long a resident of Jacksonville and now living in Indianapolis, has sent the following communication to the Journal, recalling some of the earlier happenings in Jacksonville and vicinity.

I was thinking today of how many of the Jacksonville people know anything about the condition of Jacksonville when the first gun was fired on Fort Sumpter? A good many of the old Democrats came out for the southern Confederacy. Quite a number of them wore the white sash, which was the emblem of South Carolina. One family I knew furnished two to the south and three to the Union ranks. Who can tell that family name?

How many knew that there were guns shipped into Jacksonville as gas fixtures and were distributed to Union sympathizers to defend the town if called upon to do so? How many can tell what influenced John A. Logan to go into the Union army as he was one of three Democratic members of congress at the first Battle of Bull Run.

I think I am right in saying that the charter members of one of the Jacksonville lodges of Masons were all Democrats. I remember that there was a Methodist church on South Main street which was called the Southern Methodist church or Soule chapel. I knew that a number of people were taken from Jacksonville by an army officer and no one knew where they had gone until they were heard from at Fort Monroe as Federal prisoners.

Who knew that a Mr. Peck who had a store on the north side of the square bought the first sewing machine in Jacksonville? David W. Ayers, father of Charles Ayers, made the first matches and sold them in blocks and you had to break off each match as you used it.

Who knows the name of the man that Jailer Padgett shot in the jail on North Main street and just where was that jail located? Who remembers when and where Austin Tefft, the champion foot racer of early days, ran a race? Who remembers the time in Jacksonville when about the only fuel each household had was a ball of twine soaked in turpentine? Do you remember when the only illumination we had was candles for the windows?

If you will turn back in memory it will occur to you that in those earlier days the second story rooms of the store buildings were nearly all entered by outside stairways. Are there any now living in Jacksonville who went to the big dance for young people given by George W. Fox, Jr., in the old Mansion House dining room, when about 100 boys and girls were taken to the hotel on a winter's night in sleds?

How many know what part Cass county took in electing John A. Logan to the U. S. Senate? It comes to my mind that the only pork packing concern anywhere in central Illinois was at Beardstown. Hogs were often driven there distances of 50 to 100 miles to be slaughtered. Those who owned them waited until the hogs were slaughtered and stored before the animals were paid for.

Don't some of you old timers remember getting leaches from the brook for doctors to use in bleeding people, for the first thing a doctor did to treat almost any kind of illness was to bleed the patient. And while you are thinking of the olden days just remember that the Wabash railroad once ran along West State street. I recollect several big fires in the earlier days, at the Woman's college, the School for the Blind, on the north side of the square when the Hatfield building burned, and then the Stacy building near the southeast corner. Then there were two Presbyterian church building fires that came to my mind, and it occurs to me how volunteer firemen often ran home to put on their red shirts and caps before going to a fire.

TWO FIRMS STUNG BY COLD CHECK ARTIST

C. E. Hudgin and Hieronymus Brothers Are Swindled by Clever Manipulator, Who Escapes from City in Ford Car—Police Have Description of Stranger

Two local firms were cheated out of $64 in cash yesterday afternoon by a cold check artist, who has evidently made a successful getaway. About noon a stranger giving his name as R. A. Mitchell, appeared at the furniture store of C. E. Hudgin, where he purchased a table for forty dollars. He gave in payment a check for $79.50 made payable to R. A. Mitchell and signed by W. E. Hageman. The check was on the Petefish, Skyles & Co., bank of Virginia.

The stranger ordered the table delivered to 1039 South Clay avenue, which proved to be the residence of E. F. Mitchell, agent at the Burlington station. Mr. Hudgin became suspicious of the check, too late to call it back. He called the Virginia bank, found the check was worthless and notified local police.

Later in the afternoon Hieronymus Brothers on South Sandy street reported a worthless check given by the same man and under similar circumstances. This time the stranger purchased a vacuum sweeper for $55 and ordered it delivered to the South Clay street address at 4 o'clock. Nothing was discovered until the firm delivered the sweeper. It was found that no one at that address had made such a purchase. Police were then notified of the second piece of work of the cold check artist. In both cases the amount of the check was the same, $79.50. In one case the stranger got $39.50 in change, and in the other $24.50, making a total of $64.

Police have an accurate description of the check passer. From all that they could learn, he left the city in a Ford car late yesterday afternoon. Surrounding towns have been notified to be on the watch, and the description of the clever stranger has been broadcasted over the country.

CHRIST AND HIS ENEMIES

The Passion Week Pictures shown at Brooklyn church Tuesday evening proved a perfect gallery of Sacred Art. There is nothing finer than Christ and the Fisherman of Bida, Christ at the Light of the World, by Holman Hunt. The coloring was exquisite and the audience thoroughly enjoyed them. At the close of the pictures a number testified that to their knowledge, Christ is not merely a picture or a story, but a living reality, with power to save from sin. The pictures Wednesday night represented Jesus as a criminal and the various court trials thru which he passed. The public is invited.

An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was his belief who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," says:

"With my first child, I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I was very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that tazy feeling come from constipation, and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lacy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

BANK HERE RECEIVES CURRENCY SHIPMENT

New Paper Money Sent Out From Washington to Displace Worn Out Bills — Local Banks Pay Clearing House Balances in Drafts.

The United States government recently sent thru the mails to the Ayers National bank $5,000 in paper currency — new bills fresh from the federal printing presses. When you receive a clean, crisp bill of $5, $10 or $20 denomination across the bank window, remember that it has been sent here from Washington to replace worn out, dirty bills which the bank has returned to the government, after collecting them from the people in the regular channels of business.

Every national bank is required to keep in reserve at Washington a deposit of five per cent of its capital stock with which to redeem worn out money. For Ayers National bank this amount is $10,000, representing a capital stock of $200,000.

Whenever a national bank receives a shipment of new paper currency, it sends to Washington a draft for the amount, in order to keep its deposit unimpaired. Such shipments are made whenever enough worn out paper is collected to warrant an exchange.

The recent lot of $5,000 received by the bank here was in $10 and $20 bills. The money is printed in sheets of 4 bills each, three tens to every twenty. One hundred of these sheets made up the $5,000. When received at the bank, the bills are stamped and cut apart, after which they are ready to present to the public in the regular routine of business.

Whenever paper currency becomes so worn and torn that it disappears entirely, the profit accrues to the government. The gold or silver reserve against which that particular money was issued is clear gain in the vaults of the U. S. treasury. Thousands of dollars worth of paper currency disappear in this way every year.

Ninety-five per cent of modern banking and even ordinary business is done today on credit, that is, by the exchange of commercial paper, instead of currency. In former days gold and silver was carried thru the business district from bank to bank in payment of clearing house balances. This is no longer done in Jacksonville as the banks have adopted a plan of paying their balances in drafts.

In using this plan, local banks go the big city banks one better. The frequent hauls by bandits to rob bank messengers in large cities could be avoided if the banks paid each other in drafts, rather than actual currency. Local banks have thus eliminated the danger of losing funds thru street holdups.

Will Push Hotel Project With Vigor

At the luncheon of hotel campaign workers held at the chamber of commerce rooms Wednesday noon subscriptions were announced which brought the total to $155,700. Announcement was made that the workers will meet this evening at 6 o'clock at the C. of C. rooms for supper and again tomorrow evening at the same hour. This change was made because of the Rotary and Kiwanis club luncheons today and tomorrow.

The subscriptions were not as large yesterday as anticipated and it was agreed that the campaign must be prosecuted with greater vigor during the next few days and brought to an early completion.

A canvass of the records was made yesterday and all business men who have not already contributed have been listed and the same is true with reference to owners of property in the business district.

A special drive will be made to emphasize to these business men and property owners that they are vitally interested in the hotel building project and that it is only reasonable that they should take their share in this community enterprise.

The two largest subscription amounts yesterday were one of $1,000 from Mrs. Marie Mason of South Main street and one for a similar amount from Mrs. D. W. George, resident in City Place.

The fact that subscriptions yesterday were not as large as anticipated does not mean that the campaign committee is discouraged. That is not the case by any means. The committee members are definitely sure that the entire fund will be raised but it is taking somewhat more time to accomplish the task than was anticipated. This means that the business men who have been working on the teams have been devoting more hours to the project than they thought would be necessary. This would not be the case except for the fact that some of those appointed on teams have thus far devoted very little time to canvassing work.

R. Y. Rowe reported yesterday several instances where team members had taken cards and then had failed to call on the prospects. The result of the conference yesterday was the application of still more vigorous campaign measures.

Among those who took part in the discussion yesterday were Harrison Kling, Henry Frisch, M. F. Dunlap, L. F. Randall, James Guyette, Byron Armstrong, P. V. Coover, H. M. Andre, H. M. Capps, J. G. Berger, H. J. Rodgers, Felix E. Farrell, H. K. Snyder, Carl York, H. E. Wheeler, J. W. Larson, R. Y. Rowe, L. S. Reid, A. C. Metcalf, G. H. Kopperl, H. L. Caldwell, T. A. Chapin and E. A. Brennan.

STRONG SERMON HEARD AT GRACE CHURCH

Rev. E. L. Fletcher Delivers Helpful Message to Large Audience Wednesday Evening — Supper is Followed by Illustrated Lecture.

The attendance and interest in the Passion Week services of Grace church are increasing each night. Rev. E. L. Fletcher's sermons are strong and helpful messages from events of the week as recorded in the gospel. His subject last night was the "Silence of Jesus, or Lessons we May Learn from the Things Jesus Did Not Say."

The minister said that Jesus did not discuss historical or scientific subjects, but proclaimed the Kingdom of God. There are certain facts known which in all ages have inclined men to look forward to immortality. The indestructibility of matter leads us to believe that the soul must continue its existence thru eternity.

Jesus said: "If I were not so I would have told you."

The strength and beauty of love which sanctifies all relationships of life point to a continuance in the life to come. Jesus said, "If it were not so I would have told you."

The immeasurable spaces of the universe indicate that there is room for all in "the house of many mansions. Christ's life, death and resurrection assures us of life, place and peace forevermore."

The Epworth League served supper at 6:15 o'clock to an unusually large number. After supper T. V. Hopper gave an illustrated lecture on "The Child Life of the World." A large choir led the congregation in singing a number of inspiring hymns.

Miss Lucile Vick of Illinois Woman's college read "The Resurrection as interpreted by Mary Magdalene," in a way which deeply moved the audience.

Dr. Fletcher will preach to-night and tomorrow night and administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the close of the service.

The tablet committee of the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. are pursuing their work for new tablets in the Duncan Memorial with unabated zeal and fervor. The impression has been that as a couple of hundred tablets had been installed, that the tablet committee would cease its work, but such is not the case.

Regular meetings are held on alternate Mondays at the Gov. Duncan Memorial Home, and progress is reported at each meeting. Recently a tablet was ordered installed for Dr. Nathan English, a prominent citizen of early days.

Wednesday a very cordial letter was received from Mrs. Mary Berdan Tiffany of Springfield, saying that she wished a tablet installed for her father, Judge James Berdan, one of the very noted and brilliant lawyers of early days.

Persons who are interested in a beautiful memorial for departed friends should talk with some member of the tablet committee with reference to the matter.

The tablet committee includes the following persons: Mrs. Clara Alexander, Mrs. Sarajans Brown, Mrs. Anita Brockhouse, Mrs. Lizzie Buffe, Mrs. Effie Baxter, Mrs. Jennie Capps, Mrs. Lillian Danskin, Mrs. Anna Ehnie, Mrs. Sarah Fairbanks, Mrs. Ethel Harber, Mrs. Clara Havenhigh, Mrs. Kate Hollinger, Mrs. Clara Moore, Mrs. Jean Taylor, Miss Ellie Trubee, Miss Frances Wood, Mrs. Fannie Weir.

ILLINOIS PREPARES FOR BASEBALL SEASON

Coach Harmon Has Issued Uniforms to Members of Squad—Infield is Put in Shape.

Coach Harmon has issued uniforms to men who are to try out for places on the Illinois college baseball team this spring. There is much interest being shown in the game on the "hill" this year and indications point to a good team.

Owing to the fact that Illinois had no varsity team last year practically all of the men are green. Coach Harmon believes that some good material can be developed and even if the team does not win many games it will form a nucleus for a winning team in the future.

Active practice will not begin until after the Easter holidays. It is expected then to start work in earnest. Several games have been scheduled with college teams thruout the state and practice games will be played with the team of the Illinois school for the deaf.

The infield has been skinned and put in shape for the season and if a good rain comes in the next few days it will be in first class condition.
